The property is a part of a construction dating back to the fifteenth century. Built by florentine noble family of Baroni Ricasoli and enlarged in the mid of the nineteenth century with the construction of the arcade building overlooking the park and the construction of the church in Piazzuola street. The enlargement works were realized by new owners - the Congregation of the Daughters of Sacred heart of Teresa Verzeri, who used it for religious purposes up to 2006. The property has a strategic position in an elegant florentine zone “Le Cure”, located between Fiesole and the center of Florence.

The internal park is of 2350 sq. m., completely surrounded by stone walls is invisible externally. It is private and is for exclusive use of the residents of the building.

The apartment is a three-storey apartment of 250 sq. m. On the ground floor there are a living room, a big kitchen, a bathroom, huge terrace and garden. On the first floor there are two double bedrooms, one single room and two bathrooms. On the second floor a living room, a double bedroom, a bathroom and a study.
